Dear Ms. Krawiec,

This letter is in response to yours dated 10-January 2023.

REGARDING CONSENT

I queried the FCC's Reassigned Numbers Database for the 14 number/date combinations you provided. Only 3 of those returned an indication that the number had been disconnected subsequent to the date of consent. Those telephone numbers are 4403369852, 7069546234 and 9312992188. With your implementation of RND scrubbing, calls to those numbers have presumably now ceased.

But the fact that 78% of the queries returned a "No" response (indicating no disconnect subsequent to the consent date) tells me that we must further investigate the source of consents for calls to my numbers. It is certain that I have granted no such consent. If there were one or two numbers with issues, then we might attribute this to typos when consumers were filling out web forms. But this problem appears so extensive that there must be other explanation(s).

I am aware of several explanations, all involving nefarious activities:

- Sellers of so-called "consented leads" promise to deliver lists of names and numbers that have agreed to receive calls, but in fact simply supply names and numbers obtained from other lists without ever obtaining any agreement from the number owners.
- "Click farms" use either automation or humans to fill out web forms with names and numbers taken from other lists and clicking "I consent" when they have zero relationship with the number owners.
- Lead generators that, when challenged about the source of consent for a particular number, fabricate it after the fact.

I'm afraid I'm not aware of other credible explanations for how these consents came to be. I am anxious to hear your thoughts on the consents DMS has obtained.

I encourage you to examine this video from about six months ago: <https://youtu.be/D1xfNvHDsZY>. I do not always agree with Eric Troutman, featured here (with another expert), but I believe he is on point with his comments starting around the 15-minute mark. His co-panelist provides some insights as well.

BUSINESS ENTITY REGISTRATION

You explained that "Advocacy Center" is registered in Delaware and Pennsylvania to DMS under subsidiary Forte Media Solutions, LLC. I looked here <https://file.dos.pa.gov/search/business> and here <https://icis.corp.delaware.gov/Ecorp/EntitySearch/NameSearch.aspx>. Neither yielded a result for just "Advocacy Center". Both yielded a result for "Forte Media" but I could not find "Advocacy Center" associated with either of those filings. Can you guide me to the registration for Advocacy Center please?

You wrote that “Neither National Disability nor Vehicle Care Department are DMS entities or trade names.” You referenced the call dates and times that I had previously provided. Can you clarify if DMS did or did not make those calls? Does DMS make any calls where the caller announces they are “from National Disability” (sample audio)? Has DMS made any calls in the past month of December where the caller announces they are “in the Vehicle Care Department” (sample audio)?

I am trying to determine how these calls do (or do not) comply with the TCPA requirement that the business entity responsible for initiating the call must be announced at the beginning of the recording (47 CFR § 64.1200(b)(1)).

TRUTH IN CALLER-ID

In my 30-November 2022 letter to you, I noted several patterns in the calls I have received “from Medicare Rewards” including:

- 109 calls to my number 931.299.2188 from 92 DIFFERENT caller-IDs; all those caller-IDs had 931 as the area code but unique last seven digits
- 100 calls to my number 440.336.9852 from 76 DIFFERENT caller-IDs; 99 of those caller-ID’s had 440 as the area code but unique last seven digits
- 76 calls to my number 208.739.9022 from 66 DIFFERENT caller-IDs; all those caller-ID’s had 208 as the area code but unique last seven digits

I trust DMS has verified that this is substantially consistent with their own records. (If not, please advise.) I presume it was the same entity (“Medicare Rewards”) initiating the calls; if not, please advise.

It is well-known in the industry that so-called “neighbor-spoofing” is used to cause a called party to believe that a call is coming from a local or nearby source when it in fact is not. It is also well-known that the intent of “snow-shoeing” (using many different Caller-IDs for the same calling campaign) is to evade call-blocking tools (be they network analytics that recognize caller-IDs and label or divert those calls, or a personal block list that a called party maintains to reject calls with caller-ID values that that individual has linked to unwanted calls).

You explained in your most recent letter that “DMS does not cause any caller identification service to knowingly transmit misleading or inaccurate caller identification information.” If the purpose of using so many different values was not to “mislead”, can you explain what your purpose, in fact, was? Is this neighbor-spoofing, snow-shoeing, both or something else?

RECENT CALLS

You recounted my recent report that since 23-December, I’ve received over a thousand calls I believe came from DMS. You asked that I substantiate this claim, including revealing my numbers that have been called, so that DMS can investigate.

As I’ve previously indicated, I am not willing to comprehensively share all of my telephone numbers. My fear is that DMS and others in the calling industry will respond by selectively blocking calls to those numbers, compromising my ability to monitor the ecosystem. I’ve made clear that my mission is to eliminate illegal calling for ALL Americans, not just for me. To that end, I am working with entities including DMS to identify and fix systemic issues.

In the time since the referenced date (23-Dec 2022), I've received calls likely from DMS via 345 of my telephone numbers. I've attached to this letter the details of about 100 calls to just a handful (six) of my numbers so that DMS can conduct the promised investigation and share the results.

So that my expectations are properly set, I'll ask that you promptly reply with a date by which I can expect a considered response.
